SCHMITZMIX CONCRETE PROJECT GALLERIES

Active, Outdoor Living Areas

Like many others in Southeastern Wisconsin, these homeowners turned to concrete to transform their yard into a room without walls, where nature can be actively engaged, not passively observed.

Concrete was used extensively for this backyard “Great Room” ... even the “decking” on the bridge was cast with ready-mixed concrete, custom stamped and colored to look like wood. Custom texturing and coloring of ready-mixed concrete was also used to define pathways to the outdoor Great Room and the multiple seating and entertaining areas. Close-up pictures of the stamped pavements used in constructing this great room are below.
